Tim Kelly is a Partner in our Property group and practices extensively in land acquisition, sales, property development, leasing, advising on agreements, joint ventures and partnerships.

An Accredited Specialist in Property Law, Tim has over 35 years of experience in all property law related matters and in the sale and purchase of businesses, trusts and company structures, as well as estate and trusts law.

His clients are drawn from a range of industries including property, development, retail, hospitality and government. They include landlords, tenants, real estate agencies, property developers, private and public companies, government and associations.

Tim has been a trusted adviser to industry associations and their members for many years, in relation to property and business advice, sales, purchases and leases. He also maintains a substantial private client practice.

His expertise in trusts and estates ranges from drawing and advising on wills and trusts, designing wealth-preserving estate plans and advising on asset protection. He has acted as executor for many clients and has comprehensive knowledge in this area.
